Average Energy Prices, Chicago-Gary-Kenosha — January 2016

Gasoline prices averaged $1.992 a gallon in the Chicago-Gary-Kenosha area in January 2016, the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today. Regional Commissioner Charlene Peiffer noted that area gasoline prices were down 14.8 cents compared to January 2015 when they averaged $2.140 per gallon. Chicago area households paid an average of 15.3 cents per kilowatt hour (kWh) of electricity in January 2016, 11.0 percent less than the 17.2 cents per kWh paid in January 2015. The average cost of utility (piped) gas, at 71.7 cents per therm in January was down from 86.2 cents per therm a year earlier. (Data in this release are not seasonally adjusted; accordingly, over-the-year-analysis is used throughout.)

At $1.992 a gallon, prices for gasoline in the Chicago area were similar to the national average of $2.034 a gallon in January 2016. In January 2015 and 2013, gasoline prices in the Chicago area were also comparable to the national average. However, area gasoline prices exceeded the national average by 16.7 cents and 17.1 cents in January 2014 and January 2012, respectively. (See chart 1.)

Technical Note

Average prices are estimated from Consumer Price Index (CPI) data for selected commodity series to support the research and analytic needs of CPI data users. Average prices for electricity, utility (piped) gas, and gasoline are published monthly for the U.S. city average, the 4 regions, the 3 population size classes, 10 region/size-class cross-classifications, and the 14 largest local index areas. For electricity, average prices per kilowatt-hour (kWh) are published. For utility (piped) gas, average prices per therm are published. For gasoline, the average price per gallon is published. Average prices for commonly available grades of gasoline are published as well as the average price across all grades.

All eligible prices are converted to a price per normalized quantity. These prices are then used to estimate a price for a defined fixed quantity. The average price per kilowatt-hour represents the total bill divided by the kilowatt-hour usage. The total bill is the sum of all items applicable to all consumers appearing on an electricity bill including, but not limited to, variable rates per kWh, fixed costs, taxes, surcharges, and credits. This calculation also applies to the average price per therm for utility (piped) gas.
